Press Release

Who is Edite Domingos?

Edite Domingos, is a Munich born singer who harnesses her Angolan roots to produce a unique sound to the Afro Beats genre. Furthermore, her music aims to empower women.

She combines elements of European popular music, while grounding the listener to the beat of the motherland.

Performing self-written songs, alongside her dancers. Edite has found praise amongst audiences worldwide, as well as recognition by winning first place at the "Jugend musiziert Munich" and being a guest on TFM Senegal, München TV, Focus, Radio Lora, Radio Senegal, Radio Despertar Angola and Continental Radiostation London, etc.

After humble beginnings and assembling her team of producers and management, Edite released her official music video for her third single, "Why don't you love me".

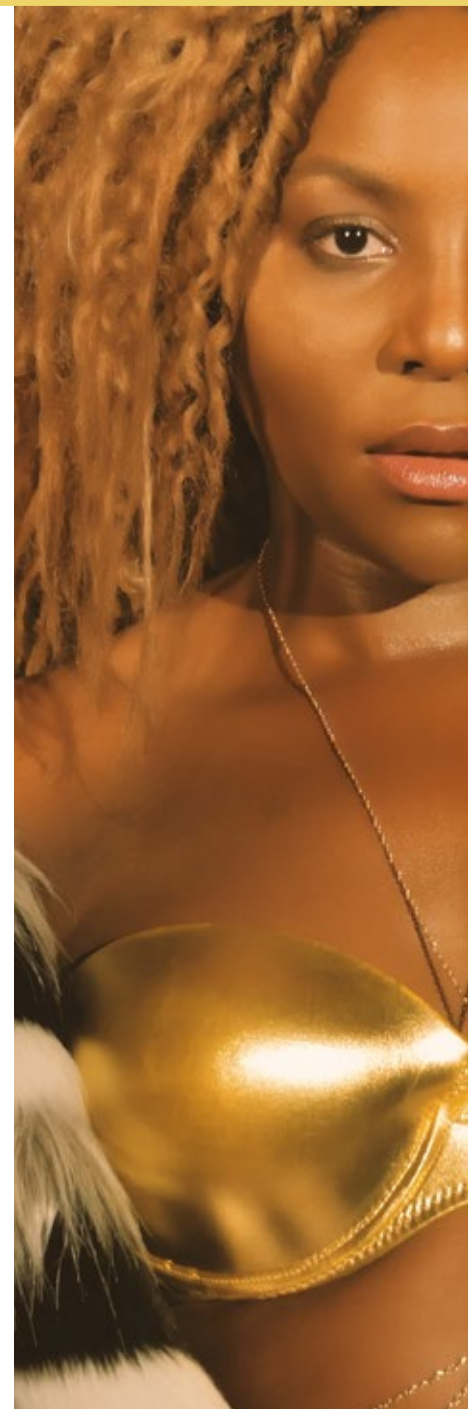

Edite is currently working on new projects.

Social Commitment

Edite Domingos became the brand ambassador for the campaign „Freiwillige Messe Munich“ in 2020 and 2021. The well-known singer from Munich, who is already very active in giving girls with refugee or poor background free hip hop dance lessons, feels honored to have been asked for this position.

„In my years of voluntary social work, I have learned that strengthening self-confidence is usually the biggest issue for young women“, she said. She is happy to move forward with this project.

The Freiwillige Messe is a voluntary fair encouraging people to do any volunteer social work.
